Camp Kesem in Utah Valley is directed by BYU students and provides summer camps for kids who have been affected by a parent's cancer. Students are hosting a charity gala on March 20th at 6:00 pm at the Viridian Event Center in West Jordan to raise funds for their chapter, and you are invited!

With hundreds of youth across Utah having witnessed a parent's diagnosis, treatment, and often premature passing, Camp Kesem in Utah Valley has been a monumental force for good and a resource for families. The BYU chapter has grown to serve nearly 250 Utah kids, but many remain on the waitlist. Camp Kesem provides Utah kids with friends who understand their unique situations, memories to cherish, and a break from the reality of cancer. The Charity Gala this month will raise funds in hopes to serve 300 campers in 2020.
