

Paid Internship with Strong Letter of Recommendation Potential

Paid Internship:

- At Your Home LLC consists of two group homes in Orem serving five special-needs individuals.
- We currently have and have had the privilege of employing students from your program.
- This paid internship consists of assisting clients at one of the group homes with colostomy and catheter care as well as helping them achieve short and long-term goals.
- One client has spina bifida and the other has MS. We will train you on how to do work with these amazing individuals.
- We're looking for several students to do a paid internship with us during the Fall and even Winter semesters. Hours are flexible.

Letter of Recommendation for Medical School:

- At the end of the internship and after an evaluation of your performance, we will write a letter of recommendation for your medical school admission.
- Those who have received a letter of recommendation from us have reported that it made a big difference in helping them stand out to medical school admissions committees who read hundreds of applications a year.
