VAW Global Health Alliances at BYU is accepting applicants to their 2023 Medical Outreach trip to Cambodia! We will be going from June 6-20, 2023. Applicants from all backgrounds and majors who are passionate about learning and collaborating are accepted. There are also potential leadership positions available!

During clinic days interns will gain experience shadowing local physicians, taking vitals and learning about basic pharmacology. There will also be an opportunity to plan an interactive health lesson that will be presented to a classroom of young students.

This is an intensive two week trip that is extremely valuable for someone who wants to gain insight on healthcare in communities abroad, while also experiencing a new country.

If you are interested please email byu.medical@vawgha.org for more information and an application.
